

Enterprise Risk Project Manager

Pittsburgh, PA

Max Salary: 120K

Manage the planning, organizing and implementation of complex strategic projects or programs (highly visible initiatives crossing multiple disciplines, businesses, and/or organizations). Take projects from original concept through final implementation. Assemble a matrixed project team, including identification and securing of resources needed from other disciplines and/or organizations. Assign responsibilities based upon the project plan. Champion current project management standard processes and ensure compliance to quality assurance policies. Familiarity with data warehousing and database concepts, financial and risk reporting and analytics.

Familiarity with technologies used within the project(s) for which the job holder is responsible. Financial/Risk Management industry experience strongly preferred. Knowledge of at least one of the following areas is strongly desired (risk management, Basel II, trade finance, derivatives, securities). Advanced degree or Project Management Certification (PMP) preferred. Problem Solving: Describe the nature and complexity of the problems this position encounters on a recurring basis. Include information regarding the level of innovation required, if any, and include mention of environmental factors that may add to the complexity of resolving issues. Must have proven experience in identifying project risks and issues, and making effective decisions. High visibility within Risk and other internal organizations. Managing client expectations, implementing service improvement initiatives and communicating effectively with senior management and executives. Must be adept to building consensus across organizational and functional lines.

Beverly Sugar

Easton Personnel

Beverly@eastonpersonnel.com

212 843 0300 x222